Social Media Article

Would you like to be involved with WMGMA but are short on time to commit?

Do you know a thing or two about social media, or what you'd like to see from us on social media?

Consider joining the WMGMA social media advisory group!

WMGMA is considering a social media page and would like YOUR input! WMGMA is seeking a small group of members to discuss the platform and type of content that would be best for our members.

This group will meet 2-3 times this summer, for a maximum of 1 hour per meeting via conference call.

Space matters: Increasing employee engagement and efficiency through office redesign

This article initially appeared in the May 2018 MGMA Connection magazine.

Studies of occupational stress pay little attention to features of the physical environment in which the actual work is performed. Yet evidence is accumulating that the physical environment of work affects both job performance and job satisfaction.
